Gov. Beckham Makes a Caustic Reference to Opponents

Intimates Why Some of Them Are Against Him—A Warm Time Coming.

NEWS JUST OFF THE WIRES

BECKHAM OPENS UP.

Owensboro, April 13—Governor Beckham opened his campaign for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination this morning here, and was heard by a large crowd.

After his preliminary remarks he defended the members of the Democratic executive committee, and then launched forth into a caustic attack on Colonel John K. Hendrick, of Paducah.

At one point he significantly declared:

"I have not escaped calumny and misrepresentation from disappointed office-seekers, disappointed pardon brokers, and those grafters who met with no cheer in my office, and whose presence in politics is for the purpose of plundering campaign funds or sand-bagging corporations under some threat of legislative or franchise tax punishment. They could not control me, and they are therefore fighting me with the malevolence born of hate and despair."

It is given out that from this time on Governor Beckham will make it warm for his opponents, who have been having things all their own way thus far. He will show up some of the motives back of the opposition of some of his opponents and their supporters.

The Ministerial association met this morning with a good attendance but nothing out of the ordinary was brought up. The regular reports and routine work was performed and the association meeting adjourned without anything of importance being brought up.

CUT FROM EAR TO EAR

Colored Bartender Badly Slashed With a Knife

Zona Willis May Die From Injuries Inflicted By J. C. Caldwell.

CALDWELL WAS ARRESTED

Zona Willis, colored bartender at a saloon on the east side of South Maiden alley, on Court street between First and Second streets, had his throat cut this afternoon about 1 o'clock by J. C. Caldwell, a colored shoemaker, who was seized before he could escape by John Winfrey and another colored man and taken to the city hall, where he was locked up.

Willis has been employed at the saloon for some time, and just how the trouble came up is not clear. Caldwell claims that Willis struck him over the head with a club and he then cut in self-defense.

The police could learn nothing additional. It was stated to them by men in the saloon that the injured man struck Caldwell with a stick, and as Caldwell fell towards Willis he reached over and cut his throat.

The blood spurted from the gaping wound and as it covered the floor led those inside to think that Willis had been killed. When Dr. Robertson had reached the wounded man the flow of blood had been temporarily stopped, and the man was apparently resting easy and breathing freely, but his recovery is doubtful.

The knife with which the cutting was done is a large one, with the name of J. C. Caldwell in the handle. It was turned over to Captain Henry Bailey this afternoon.

The cutting attracted a large crowd and officers had to be stationed at the doors to keep out the pressing crowd.

Wall Street, New York, April 13—Stocks opened unchanged to a fraction lower, and for a time it seemed as if prices might advance, but heavy selling broke the whole list badly. The bank statement was regarded as being favorable and an appeal will be taken in the northern security case and President Williams thinks the decision will be sustained. Stocks were put under heavy selling pressure and prices broke so rapidly that for a time it seemed as if there might be another panic, but the decline was steady, this was helped by easy call money, and had this not been the case something serious might have happened. Trading was heavy, sales to noon being 610,100 shares. What the next move will be is hard to tell, but it seems as if they had exhausted all the bad news obtainable, and with improved money conditions, and a good shake out like the one today prices should advance, for they now have all of the high price stocks to something like a 5 per cent basis.

ARENZ & GILBERT.

OUR GUEST, THE ARKANSAS

The Steel Monster Anchored Opposite the City, Attracts Many.

Courtesies Exchanged by Officers of Paducah and the Vessel Today.

A QUIET ARRIVAL.

A real war vessel is for the first time in the history of Paducah moored in the Ohio a few hundred yards from the wharf.

The monitor Arkansas arrived from below at 9 o'clock last night, and so quietly dropped anchor that few people knew she was here until some time after they arose this morning. There was no noise and no welcome of any description, owing to its being the Sabbath, and no people were on the bank to greet her, because they had all been told that she would not be here until morning and because of the heavy rain which fell at intervals.

This morning soon after daylight the usual day's routine began on board and the jacks could be seen flitting here and there preparing for the day. The big vessel, which does not appear from a distance to be nearly so large as she really is, is moored just below the island, and opposite the foot of Court street.

Crowds began to gather on the bank and on First street before breakfast, and by 7 o'clock there was almost an interminable stream pouring out lower Broadway, hundreds of school children, among others, trudging down in the rain to catch their first glimpse of a real war vessel.

About 8 o'clock the sailors manned a yawl or two and came to the city for supplies and mail, and the moment they landed a large crowd at once pressed close around them as they touched the bank and nimbly sprang ashore.

OFFICIAL NOTICE GIVEN.

About 9 o'clock Lieutenant Baker called at the city hall and officially notified Mayor Yeiser that the vessel was anchored opposite the city and awaited the pleasure of the people.

Mayor Yeiser, President Durrett, of the aldermen, Messrs. H. A. Petter, S. A. Fowler and President L. S. DuBois, of the Commercial club, then went across to the boat and paid an official call, extending the freedom of the city to everybody aboard, and were then shown over the vessel.

Upon their return to the city the boat was ready for the reception of the public, and soon people were crossing over by the hundred on the three boats, 25 cents a round trip being charged, as the boats could not remain here off their regular trips and transport the public for nothing, and otherwise there would have been no way to reach the vessel.

A CHANGE OF PLANS.

Upon consulting the officers, the committee on arrangements and recreation at the Fowler boat store this morning called off the banquet as the officers preferred a dance in order that they might meet the ladies. They are somewhat tired of banquets, which are always stag affairs, and the committee changed the evening's entertainment to a dinner at the Palmer house in their honor, and a dance under the auspices of the Ootillon club afterwards. The dinner will be at 8 o'clock and the dance at 9.

The smoker at Elks hall in honor of the sailors will begin at 8 p. m. and about 110 of them will be permitted to attend.

NO SALUTE FIRED.

The statement in some of the papers that a salute would be fired was an error, as the regulations of the department do not permit salutes except on national holidays, a visit of the president, some naval officer or similar occasions.

COURTESY ON BOARD.

Despite the throngs that have swept over the boat from stem to stern all day, the officers and sailors have shown the most uniform patience and courtesy, and have explained everything about the vessel to the interested spectators, most of whom were never aboard a vessel of this description before, and to whom the workings of the monster guns and the intricate mechanism, were a revelation. There is a man at every point and he explains carefully the part of the vessel assigned to him, and does it with clearness and politeness.

One thing that impressed everyone who visited the craft was the cleanliness everywhere. There was hardly a spot to be found anywhere, but there will be plenty of work for the jacksies when the thousands of feet have ceased to tramp over the boat this afternoon.

THE DEPARTURE.

The boat will remain here until daylight, when she will leave for Evansville, where preparations are being made for her reception. The trip will hardly require more than three or four days, and it is not yet known whether she will stop on her way down or not.

SCHOOLS ARE DISMISSED.

The public schools dismissed at noon for the day in order that the children

THE EASTER SERVICES

Large Congregations Out at All the Churches.

Eloquent Sermons and Magnificent Music Heard Everywhere in the City.

FLOWERS IN GREAT PROFUSION

Easter was observed yesterday with special music and sermons appropriate to the day.

Many of the churches were elaborately and beautifully decorated, and very few were without some flowers and plants about the altar in visible reminder of the beauty of and glory of the Resurrection. In some of the churches the cause of missions was emphasized and collections taken along this line. Large congregations were at all the morning services, but the storm that arose just about the evening church hour, materially decreased the attendance.

It is the custom in the Southern Methodist church to observe Easter with a service in the interest of the "Scarritt Training School" at Kansas City, for the home and foreign missionary workers. This program is gotten out by the Women's Foreign Missionary society of the M. E. church south for an universal observance, and the collections made at Easter go to that school.

A portion of the Easter morning service of the Broadway Methodist church included this program, and was very pleasing. The pastor Dr. T. J. Newell preached an inspiring Easter sermon on "The Resurrection of Christ," and the choir rendered some fine special music. The altar was decorated with cut flowers and plants, and the auditorium was crowded. There were eight additions to the church at this service. Dr. Newell's night theme was "The State of the Dead" and was a very strong and comforting sermon.

At the St. Francis de Sales Catholic church the music was especially fine, the choir being assisted by Prof. Wm. Deal's orchestra, and several solos being rendered, with a large docket. The cases to be tried are as follows:

The musical program at the First Christian church yesterday morning attracted a large crowd. The story of the Death and Resurrection was given in music entirely, there being no sermon. It was well rendered by some of the finest voices in the city.

The Easter service at Grace church was very beautiful, with special music. The church was attractively decorated, and the Easter offering was as usual a large one.

Easter was observed by the Evangelical Lutheran and German Evangelical churches with the usual appropriate and impressive services. An Easter offering was taken at both these churches.

The morning services at both the First and Second Baptist churches was devoted to the great cause of missions. The pastor of each preaching on this theme. Both churches were largely attended.

At the First Presbyterian church the usual Easter collection for the support of the children kept in the Orphanage at Anchorage by this church was made. The goodly sum of $300 was raised.

"The Supper of Death" was the subject for discussion at the Y. M. C. A. yesterday afternoon. There was a fair attendance. There were several social features indulged in after the subject had been exhausted and also several special musical features.

Services were held at Temple Israel yesterday morning in celebration of the Feast of the Passover which began on Saturday evening. The music was very fine.

Secretary Stuart B. Hanna of the Y. M. C. A. filled the pulpit of the Cumberland Presbyterian church yesterday, and on "The Law of Trans-

HIGH DEGREE MASONS

Spring Reunion to be Held This Week in Louisville

A Large Class of Masons of Kentucky Expected to Take the Degrees.

MEETING LASTS THREE DAYS

The Scottish Rite bodies sitting in the valley of Louisville are preparing for the fifty-first spring reunion, which will be held in the Scottish Rite Cathedral in Louisville Thursday, Friday and Saturday of this week, April 16 and 18. The Grand Consistory of Kentucky was organized in Louisville August 20, 1852, and yields allegiance to the supreme council of the Thirty-third degree of the Southern jurisdiction of the United States, with headquarters in Washington. The cathedral in Louisville was dedicated in 1895. Since then the interest has been so great and the growth such that the building is now crowded and radical improvements will soon be necessary.

The membership of the Scottish Rite in Kentucky is about 700. The reunions each year are more successful, not only because they permit of a pilgrimage to Louisville by those members who reside out in the state, but because they enable Masons to receive in three days the degrees that would otherwise require four months. Upon the occasion of the spring reunion the various degrees are conferred one after the other that the out of town candidates may be away from their business and families as short a time as possible. The class this year will probably number between 50 and 75, which is the largest in the history of the Kentucky Consistory.

HUBBARD MURDER TRIAL.

THE PROSECUTION HAS FINISHED ITS EVIDENCE.

Shawneetown, Ill., April 13—The state has finished its evidence in the Hubbard murder trial, which is being tried here, and the defense is now presenting its side of the case. The prosecution only examined twenty-one of 125 witnesses. The prosecution depends largely upon the testimony of John R. Malone, who swore he saw Hubbard fire the fatal shot that killed his lifelong friend on the night of March 14, 1900, and Phillip Steinheimer, who says Hubbard confessed to him of the murder. Jack Fitzgerald also testified that Hubbard told him he killed Espy.

Most of the witnesses for the defense examined thus far have simply been to prove his good character. The verdict of the coroner's jury, which returned a verdict of suicide, at the inquest over Espy, was introduced. Mrs. Laverne Espy, wife of the deceased, went on the stand, but told nothing unexpected. Her testimony at the former trial in May, 1900, in Benton, Franklin county, was against Hubbard.

KEEN DISAPPOINTMENT.

KENTUCKY MILITIA MAY YET GO TO EXPOSITION DEDICATION.

Although Governor Beckham has decided not to send the Kentucky militia to the dedication of the St. Louis exposition this month, a movement is on foot in Louisville to have the artillery and drum and trumpet corps make the trip. Private subscription is to be relied on to defray the expenses, the plan being to send the militiamen to the Future Great in detachments in special coaches over the three different roads. The railroads have promised to give them a rate tomorrow.

KENTUCKY TOBACCO.

MUCH TO BE CARRIED TO NORTH POLE.

The Zeigler polar expedition, which will leave within the next few weeks for the north pole from Tromsø, Norway, will carry 300 pounds of the best Kentucky mixed smoking tobacco. The records of exports for the past month on file at the collector's office show that this tobacco was shipped to the Zeigler party. All of the sailors who will go on the expedition are native Americans and are fully cognizant of the superiority of Kentucky tobaccos.

The Avalon is due at Chattanooga today.

WILL NOT RESIGN

Alderman Kirchhoff is to Occupy Residence in Summer

Says He Has As Much Right to Do So As Mayor Yeiser.

Alderman Frank Kirchhoff, who is building a fine suburban residence outside the city limits in Rowlandtown, and who it has been reported would have to resign his position in the board of aldermen when he moves, stated today that he would not be ready to move for a month yet.

In regard to his resigning his position he stated today that he was to move into the place for a summer home, and would not resign.

"I have as much right to occupy a summer home outside the city limits and retain my place in the board," he stated to a reporter, "as Mayor Yeiser, who for several years has moved to his summer home in Arcadia regularly and spent a great part of the year there."

VISITED METROPOLIS

PADUCAH KNIGHTS TEMPLAR REPORT AN ENJOYABLE TIME.

Thirty-five members of the local commandery of Knights Templar went to Metropolis yesterday morning to attend the Easter services with the Metropolis commandery and reported the visit very pleasant.

About thirty-five members of the local commandery left on the Bettie Owen at 9 o'clock and returned at 4. They were met at the landing by the Metropolis commandery and escorted to the church. At noon the visitors were entertained at dinner at the State hotel. The local delegates were accompanied by their wives, who were also in attendance at the dinner. It was one of the most enjoyable affairs of the season.

PROMOTER HERE

MR. HALLER ARRIVES FROM ST. LOUIS TO ARRANGE FOR CARNIVAL.

Mr. S. C. Haller, accompanied by his wife, arrived yesterday from St. Louis. Mr. Haller is the promoter of the approaching carnival, and is here to arrange for it and boost it from now until it begins, in little less than a month.

He is a gentleman of much experience in this line and will at once begin work. On account of the weather he has been able to do but little today, but has held several conferences with the executive committee, and by tomorrow the work will be well under way.

ACCUSED OF STEALING

PADUCAH NEGROES TAKEN TO BENTON THIS MORNING.

Charles Pierson and Clarence Wilson, colored, brakemen on the L. C., were taken to Benton this morning on a charge of larceny. They were arrested Saturday night by Officers Gourioux and Potter. It is alleged that they went to Benton a few days ago to visit Joe Sankum, and while he was asleep applied chloroform and robbed him of $21.50. Sheriff Reeves took them back this morning.

IN TEN PAYS

THE STEAM HEATING PLANT WILL BE COMPLETED.

The steam heating force today started excavations under Broadway at Third street, and have already crossed at Second. They have no intention, according to the superintendent, of crossing at Fourth street, although the ordinance gives them the right to cross there.

It is believed that the system will be completed in ten days or less if the weather is favorable.

COURT AT SMITHLAND.

REGULAR TERM BEGAN THIS MORNING.

MAY STOP HERE

Gov. Beckham Will Probably Spend a Day in Paducah.

Is Expected to Arrive Sunday and Possibly Remain Over Monday.

A private letter from Frankfort states that Governor Beckham will try to spend a day in Paducah, and possibly speak here. He opens his campaign today in Owensboro, and will outline his policy and answer some of the arguments that have been made against him, according to the letter.

His speech is to be printed in pamphlet form and freely distributed throughout the state. Gov. Beckham will be in Fulton next Saturday and is expected to spend Sunday in Paducah as a guest of Congressman C. K. Wheeler, if he can arrange to come here. An effort will then be made to induce him to remain over Monday and speak here.

NEVER SAW IT.

AUTHOR "THE SWORD OF THE KING" NEVER EVEN WITNESSED A REHEARSAL.

Ronald MacDonald, author of "The Sword of the King," the play in which Miss Henrietta Crossman will appear here Friday is in the unusual position of a dramatist who has never seen a performance of his own successful piece. Not only has Mr. MacDonald never seen his play on the stage, but he not so much as witnessed a rehearsal of it. If there be another author of a popular play who has not at some time viewed his own creation, his identity is hidden from the world. Mr. MacDonald, who is a London novelist and dramatist, had originally intended to come to this country before his play was produced by Miss Crossman. Later he sent word that he would be unable to make the journey as proposed, but would arrive later, in the New York run of the play.

But again his plans miscarried, and not to this day has he ever seen "The Sword of the King" nor has he ever set eyes on the star who has carried his piece to success.

PREHISTORIC PEOPLE

INTERESTING DISCOVERY MADE IN CHRISTIAN COUNTY.

Hopkinsville, Ky., April 13—Prof. Warren Morehead, curator of the department of archaeology of Phillips academy, Andover, Mass., has discovered on a farm east of this place what he says was the burying ground of a prehistoric people. Prof. Morehead exhumed ten skeletons several being in a fair state of preservation. He is making a preliminary investigation in this region and probably will be followed by a party of archaeologists from Yale college. The bones found he pronounces to be those of an extinct race of mound builders. All the skeletons were in receptacles built of flat stones. Stone cups were found in several graves and a stone knife was found in one. Prof. Morehead will continue his investigations for several days.

OIL GOES UP

BECAUSE COD LIVERS HAPPEN TO BE LEAN THIS SEASON.

The price of cod liver oil has increased in less than three months from $27 a barrel to $110 a barrel, and the local wholesale drug houses are unable to secure any large amount at the high price named. Although the approaching warm weather has caused a falling off in the demand for the oil, the price has not declined. From present indications the price will be maintained, and there may be another advance.

Recent reports from Norway show that, although the fish were becoming more plentiful than early in the season, the livers are leaner, and therefore less oil can be secured.

It requires about 50,000 livers to make one barrel of oil. Thus far only 252 barrels of oil have been obtained from the season's catch.

MR. CHARLES M. SCHWAB.

New York, April 13—A leading director of the United States steel corporation states that Charles M. Schwab would be re-elected president at the annual meeting this month. He made this statement in order to set at rest the numerous stories about Mr. Schwab's being displaced because of his poor health or because of alleged displeasure at some of his doings abroad.

A HUNDRED YEARS

Spent in Litigation Involving War Claim.

A Metropolis Youngster Gets $33.33 from Great-Great Grand Father's Estate.

IT IS AN INTERESTING STORY

Because of the fact that the United States has only recently allowed a claim which has been in congress for almost a hundred years Master Wayne McBane, of Metropolis, Ill., is just in receipt of a check for $33.33 from Boston, Mass.

The check comes to him as an heir of Captain George Turner, formerly of Portsmouth, N. H., who died in the year 1800. Not because of the amount of the check but because of the historical incidents which it recalls it is notable.

While England and France were at war during the closing years of the Seventeenth century France confiscated many merchant vessels belonging to citizens of the United States, until our government finally tiring of the practice fitted out a fleet and swept a number of French cruisers and privateers off the seas.

When peace had been declared the merchantmen of this country laid claim against France for damages and in retaliation France laid claim against the United States for damages to her navy. Finally through the efforts of the great Napoleon, who had come on the throne in France, the two nations decided to call it even, shake hands and be friends.

The merchantmen then asserted that the United States should pay their private claims. Captain Turner was one of these. For over three-fourths of a century the payment of these claims have been urged before congress and finally last year the claim of Captain Turner for $2080, the value of his vessel, was allowed by the court of claims under the French Spoilation act.

After deducting charges the descendants of Captain Turner were looked up and the money paid to them. Of these there are two grand children, 35 great grand children and six great great grand children, Master Wayne being one of these. His father, the late Captain W. A. McBane, was a great grandson of Captain Turner.

PRUSSIA'S INCOME TAX.

(From the New York World.) There were 6,610 millionaires in Prussia in 1902, according to the Government's income tax reports; and this was reckoning millions in marks, not dollars.

Out of this total 4,257 persons had fortunes of between $238,000 and $476,000 each, and 2,344 had fortunes of over $476,000.

Reckoned by dollars instead of marks, there are only 622 Prussian millionaires—that is, persons worth $1,000,000 and upwards to $2,400,000; only 143 worth more than $2,400,000, but not over $6,000,000; and twenty-four only with fortunes ranging from $6,000,000 to $24,000,000.

There are only two Prussian millionaires whose fortunes exceed $24,000,000.

In 1902 the Prussian government levied an income tax, graduated according to the size of the income on 3,762,047 persons. Its total revenue from this tax was $44,943,406.

Of the entire population of Prussia nearly 65 per cent paid no income tax. Of the remainder, 31.05 per cent had yearly incomes ranging from $214 to $712, and only 4.34 per cent had incomes exceeding $714 per year.

The largest income tax payer in Prussia last year was the late Krupp, king of cannon makers, whose income was assessed for nearly $5,000,000.

Two-thirds of the income tax payers of the kingdom live in cities. Frankfort-on-the-Main and Bonn are relatively to population the two richest cities in Prussia—not Berlin.

HOW ALICE DID IT.

LEARNED TO FOLLOW INSTRUCTIONS.

"I puzzled mother mightily one morning after a return from visiting some friends. She had suffered terribly from sleeplessness caused by coffee drinking, and of course general nervousness and stomach trouble followed.

"Someone told her to quit coffee and use Postum Food Coffee, but the first morning it was served to her it was so insipid and weak that she gave it up and went to drinking hot water, for she did not care for tea or cocoa.

"About this time I went visiting, and during the conversation in reply to an inquiry about mother's health I told of her sleepless nights and general condition, and of the failure of the new drink that we tried.

"I observed that my friend looked rather knowing and wise at this statement, but thought nothing more of it at the time.

"In the morning at breakfast I was served with a most delicious cup of coffee, which I drank with great pleasure, but I noticed my hostess watching me carefully. Finally I asked for a second cup, and she burst out laughing and remarked: 'So your folks don't like Postum.' I was astonished, and said: 'This is not Postum, is it?' She sent for the package in order to satisfy me, and it was exactly like the one mother had. Then I learned that our failure was caused from not boiling it long enough, so when I reached home I told mother I had found a new drink for her, and I went into the kitchen and made it from her old package of Postum. She was so delighted with the new drink that I told her it was Postum, and it was amusing to see her perplexity. She looked at the package and read it over. At last she said: 'Alice, how did you ever do it?' I said, 'By simply following the directions.' She exclaimed, 'Why, I did not know there were any directions.' It seems the cook had not looked at the package, but just brewed it with a little hot water just like she would tea, and that will not make good Postum. It must be boiled just as the directions say, then the flavor is delicious.

"The next day mother was to give a little coffee party, and we served Postum instead of coffee. The ladies were all delighted with it, and we now have 'Postums' instead of 'coffees,' and it would astonish anyone to hear the experience of the different ladies as to how well they feel and how soundly they sleep at night since they have adopted Postum instead of the old-fashioned coffee, and particularly since they have followed directions." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

Tailor Made Clothing Is the Cheapest

That sounds like a broad statement. You may doubt it. However 'tis true.

Real economy is to be found in custom tailor clothing for the following reasons

The fabrics wear longer.

Hold their shape always.

Hold their colors.

Always look better.

Give you an air of prosperity and of having the correct thing.

The first cost is just a fraction more than the other sort.

If you will let me make your clothing you will never wear "the other sort."

THE GREAT TRAINED ANIMAL ARENA AT PADUCAH CARNIVAL

At every exposition and carnival in this country and abroad the star feature has always been the marvellous trained animal exhibition, where the very acme of human courage and daring, the apex of wild animal subjugation, together with a superlative degree of educational zoological features, are combined, the salient characteristics of the world's resources and a lifetime's plucky effort, perseverance and experience, as represented by the great Ferrari Brothers' carnival. The efforts of others in similar lines extend the world around. The exterior of the wild animal show is a mass of rare painting, carving and gilding and electric lighting and represents the very highest degree of the decorative art. Around the sides of the interior are the great steel barred cages where in are shown the brute creation fully and completely. The entire animal kingdom as they are represented, and from the ice-bound regions of the Arctic circle to the sun-scorched latitudes at the equator, mountain, forests, jungle, desert, plain, ice floe and frozen sea, has been ransacked to get together this vast collection, in which there is not a single interesting species missing nor one rare variety absent. There, commanded and directed by the world's greatest animal trainers, are shown man-eating lions, bloodthirsty tigers, fierce, snarling leopards, treacherous panthers, huge, shaggy bears, grave-robbing hyenas, deadly jaguars and wild fighting wolves, in as complete subjection as household cats and dogs. In the great steel cages can be seen fearless men and women taking their lives in their hands, posing in the midst of the very beasts, whose mission on earth seems but death and destruction. Education to a degree which borders on the line of human understanding is amply demonstrated and performances are given which fairly bewilder the senses of the spectator. All of this will be seen in the great arena which will be here as the crowning attraction of the Paducah free carnival May 11 to 16.

Good Real Estate INVESTMENTS For Bargain Seekers.

Real estate is the very best thing a man can put his spare money in. The chances for loss in it are less, the prospects for speculation are greater, and the worry less than the average investment.

The wealthy people of Paducah are big real estate owners and are constantly increasing their holdings.

Never before were the opportunities for "big things" in real estate in Paducah as great as they are today. We all know the city is growing rapidly and any real estate investments are bound to prove profitable.

I am offering a few good investments in this column. Have some more which I will tell you of later. If you want any call me at The Sun office or phone 358.

If you have any property to sell place it with me. I have excellent facilities for finding you a purchaser. If you have any property which you would like to have some one care for the renting of, or look after in any way, call on me. I make this a specialty, also.

If you have any friends who will be interested in my line tell them of me.

Law Against Vivisection.
Massachusetts has the first law in the world prohibiting vivisection in the schools.

HOW TO PREPARE THE GROUND FOR PLANTING TREES.

A hole should be dug three feet wide and twenty inches deep, the tree being placed in the center, and the hole filled in with rich soil. Different varieties of tree require different depths in the soil. You will find a mark on all trees showing the depth that they should grow. Plant two inches deeper than they originally grow in the nursery rows. This will allow for settling.

Before filling in the soil around the roots of the tree straighten the roots in proper position and fill in with rich earth, tramping the earth solid around the roots. If any part of the roots are broken by digging, prune back from the under side of the root to the live wood. Leave branches as low as possible to the ground; this will shade the body of the tree.

Trees are damaged from the south and the southwest by the rays of the sun.

The current of sap that feeds the roots comes from the leaves of the tree. The water which falls on the leaves follows down the leaf stem to the bark of the tree. When examined with a microscope you will find that the wood is perfectly porous. Anything that disturbs the bark of the tree stops the flow of sap that feeds the roots, thereby enabling insects to more successfully attack the trees. There are numerous things to prevent this. First the trees should be washed to kill the insects in the months of April and May. This will destroy the germs that make the worms and the borers. Such can be prevented with a very little expense. There are numerous chemicals that will kill the insects, but the cheapest and best thing you can use is to make a solution of soft soap; say, take five boxes of concentrated lye and thirty-five pounds of lard, boil into a slurry, set aside and cool. Use as whitewash. This rule of washing will apply to all shrubs and vines.

The main feature in getting the trees and plants to grow is not to plant too deep and to plant with rich earth and have the earth solid around the plants when planted, and not to plant too late in the season, when the stock is in bud.—Globe-Democrat.

One for Each of His Wives.
A member of the suite of King Lewanika, the Black King, gives an amusing account of those liberty dresses which the king bought in London just before his departure. The chief, it seems, occupied two solid hours in the show room of the great silk merchant, and during the whole of that time two young ladies were kept busy trying on the gorgeous costumes as fast as they could be brought up, displaying their beauty to the unusual visitor. In the end Lewanika bought twelve dresses, one for each of his wives, at a cost of $800.

Aids to Photography.

One can scarcely keep track of the inventions and devices for the advancement of photography, so rapidly are they brought to our notice. The latest is a liquid lens that by its use instantaneous photographs may be made by gaslight, and a one-minute exposure will be sufficient for a moonlight scene. A certain oil is introduced between the parts of a rectilinear lens, and thus the refraction is greatly increased.

WALKS WITHOUT CRUTCHES.

I was much afflicted with sciatica, writes Ed. C. Nud, lowaville, Sedgewick Co., Kan., "going about on crutches and suffering a deal of pain. I was induced to try Ballard's Snow Liniment, which relieved me, I used three 50c bottles. It is the greatest liniment I ever used; have recommended it to a number of persons, all express themselves as being benefited by it. I now walk without crutches able to perform a great deal of light labor on the farm." 25c, 50c and $1 at DuBois, Kolb & Co.

Swiss Glaciers.
In Switzerland the studies of many years have determined the fact finally that the glaciers are not only steadily receding, but that their rate of recession is becoming greater each year. There are only a few glaciers that still grow. The Voveye glacier in Canton Wallis is the only one that has increased since 1892. The famous Rhone glacier has receded almost 800 yards since 1876.

BEAUTY AND STRENGTH

Are desirable. You are strong and vigorous, when your blood is pure. Many—nay, most—women, fail to properly digest their food, and so become pale, sallow, thin and weak, while the brightness, freshness and beauty of the skin and complexion depart. Remedy this unpleasant evil by eating nourishing food and taking a small dose of Herbine after each meal to digest what you have eaten. 50c at DuBois Kolb & Co.

Johnny-Boy's Prayer.

The mother of a certain boy who lives on the Heights in Brooklyn had occasion to reprove him for having been bad. "Now, Johnny-boy," she said, as the child was going to bed, "you must ask the Lord to take away all your naughty sins."
"Yes'm," said Johnny, dutifully, and dropped down on his knees.
"Oh, Lord," he prayed, "please take away all my nasty old sins, and send me some nice new ones!"

SAVE THE LOVED ONES!

Mrs. Mary A. Vliet, Newcastle, Colo., writes: "I believe Ballard's Horehound Syrup is superior to any other cough medicine, and will do all that is claimed for it, and it is so pleasant to take. My little girl wants to take it when she has no need for it." Ballard's Horehound Syrup is the great cure for all pulmonary ailments. 25c, 50c and $1 at DuBois, Kolb & Co.

What Children Should Be Taught.
Merely what is contained in the textbooks is not what children should be taught at schools. They should learn justice and right and fairness and the principles of right living. If justice is done they are sure to realize it, and it will have a bad effect upon them. Character is formed at school. An unjust rule will not tend to make just men and women out of the boys and girls who are compelled to observe it.—Toledo Bee.

HERBINE CURES

Fever and ague. A dose will usually stop a chill, a continuance always cures. Mrs. Wm. M. Stroud, Midlothian, Texas, May 31, writes: "We have used Herbine in our family for eight years, and found it the best medicine we have ever used, for the grippe, bilious fever, and malaria." 50c at DuBois, Kolb & Co.

Salt Good for Sheep.

Experiments on the value of salt in the food of sheep have been recently made in France. Of three lots of sheep one had no salt, a second had half an ounce daily and a third had three-fourths of an ounce. The sheep taking salt gained more flesh and had better wool than those without it, and the sheep getting half an ounce did better than those getting more.

WHEN KNIGHTHOOD WAS IN FLOWER

Or, The Love Story of Charles Brandon and Mary Tudor, the King's Sister, and Happening in the Reign of His August Majesty King Henry the Eighth

Rewritten and Rendered into Modern English from Sir Edwin Caskoden's Memoir
By EDWIN CASKODEN [CHARLES MAJOR]
Copyright, 1888 and 1901, by the Doren-Merrill Company

The queen turned to Henry, who was laughing, and angrily demanded:
"Will your majesty permit me to be thus insulted in your very presence?"
"You got yourself into it. Get out of it as best you can. I have often told you to let her alone. She has sharp claws." The king was really tired of Catherine's sour frown before he married her. It was her dower of Spanish gold that brought her a second Tudor husband.

"Shall I not have what music and dances I want at my own balls?" asked the princess.
"That you shall, sister mine; that you shall," answered the king. "Go on,
master, and if the girl likes to dance that way, in God's name let her have her wish. It will never hurt her. We will learn it ourself, and will wear the ladies out a-dancing."

After Mary had finished the opening dance there was a great demand for instruction. The king asked Brandon to teach him the steps, which he soon learned to perform with a grace perhaps equalled by no living creature other than a fat brown bear. The ladies were at first a little shy and inclined to stand at arm's length, but Mary had set the fashion and the others soon followed. I had taken a fiddler to my room and had learned the dance from Brandon and was able to teach it also, though I lacked practice to make my step perfect. The princess had needed no practice, but had danced beautifully from the first, her strong young limbs and supple body taking as naturally to anything requiring grace of movement as a cygnet to water.

This, thought I, is my opportunity to teach Jane the new dance. I wanted to go to her first, but was afraid, or for some reason did not, and took several other ladies as they came. After I had shown the step to them I sought out my sweetheart. Jane was not a prude, but I honestly believe she was the most provoking girl that ever lived.
I never had succeeded in holding her hand even the smallest part of an instant, and yet I was sure she liked me
very much—almost sure she loved me.
She feared I might unhinge it and carry it away, or something of that sort, I suppose. When I went up and asked her to let me teach her the new dance,
she said:

"I thank you, Edwin, but there are others who are more anxious to learn than I, and you had better teach them first."

"But I want to teach you. When I wish to teach them, I will go to them."
"You did go to several others before you thought of coming to me," answered Jane, pretending to be piqued. Now, that was the unkindest thing I ever knew a girl to do—refuse me what she knew I so wanted and then put the refusal on the pretended ground that I did not care much about it. I so told her, and she saw she had carried things too far and that I was growing angry in earnest. She then made another false though somewhat flattering excuse:

"I could not bear to go through that dance before so large a company. I should not object so much if no one else could see—that is, with you, Edwin."
"Edwin!" Oh, so soft and sweet! The little jade! To think that she could hoodwink me so easily and talk me into a good humor with her soft, purring
"Edwin!" I saw through it all quickly enough and left her without another word. In a few minutes she went into an adjoining room where I knew she was alone. The door was open, and the music could be heard there, so I followed.

"My lady, there is no one to see us here. I can teach you now, if you wish," said I.

She saw she was cornered, and replied, with a toss of her saucy little head, "But what if I do not wish?"
Now, this was more than I could endure with patience, so I answered, "My young lady, you shall ask me before I teach you."

"There are others who can dance it much better than you," she returned,
without looking at me.

"If you allow another to teach you that dance," I responded, "you will have seen the last of me." She had made me angry, and I did not speak to her for more than a week. When I did—but I will tell you of that later on.

The evening was devoted to learning
the new dance, and I saw Mary busily engaged imparting information among the ladies. As we were about to disperse I heard her say to Brandon:

"You have greatly pleased the king
by bringing him a new amusement.
He asked me where I learned it, and I told him you had taught it to Oskoden and that I had it from him. I told Caskoden so that he can tell the same story."

"Oh, but that is not true. Don't you think you should have told him the truth or have evaded it in some way?"
asked Brandon, who was really a great lover of the truth, "when possible," but who, I fear, on this occasion wished to appear more truthful than he really was. If a man is to a woman's taste and she is inclined to him, he lays up great stores in her heart by making her think him good, and shameful impositions are often practiced to this end.

Mary flushed a little and answered:
"I can't help it. You do not know

Had I told Henry that we four had enjoyed such a famous time in my rooms he would have been very angry, and—and you might have been the sufferer."

"But might you not have compromised matters by going around the truth some way and leaving the impression that others were of the party that evening?"

That was a mistake, for it gave Mary an opportunity to retaliate: "The best way to go around the truth, as you call it, is by a direct lie. My lie was no worse than yours. But I did not stop to argue about such matters. There is something else I wished to say. I want to tell you that you have greatly pleased the king with the new dance.
Now teach him 'honor and ruff' and your fortune is made. He has had some Jews 'and Lombards in of late to teach him new games at cards, but yours is worth all of them." Then, somewhat hastily and irrelevantly, "I

CHAPTER VI.
A RARE RIDE TO WINDSOR.

THE princess knew her royal brother. A man would receive quicker reward for inventing an amusement or a gaudy costume for the king than by winning him a battle. Later in life the highroad to his favor was in riding him of his wife and helping him to a new one, a dangerous way, though, as Wolsey found, to his sorrow, when he sank his glory in poor Anne Boleyn.

Brandon took the hint and managed to let it be known to his play loving king that he knew the latest French games. The French Duc de Longue-ville had for some time been an honored prisoner at the English court, held as a hostage from Louis XII., but De Longueville was a blockhead, who could not keep his little black eyes off our fair ladies, who hated him, long enough to tell the deuce of spades from the ace of hearts. So Brandon was taken from his duties, such as they were, and placed at the card table.

This was fortunate at first, for, being the best player, the king always chose him as his partner, and, as in every other game, the king always won. If he lost, there would soon be no game,
and the man who won from him too frequently was in danger at any moment of being rated guilty of the very highest sort of treason. I think many a man's fall under Henry VIII. was owing to the fact that he did not always allow the king to win in some trivial matter of game or joust. Under these conditions everybody was anxious to be the king's partner. It is true he frequently forgot to divide his winnings, but his partner had this advantage at least—there was no danger of losing. That being the case, Brandon's seat opposite the king was very likely to excite envy, and the time soon came, Henry having learned the play, when Brandon had to face some one else, and the sent was too costly for a man without a treasury. It took but a few days to put Brandon hors de combat financially, and he would have been in his bed plight had not Wolsey come to his relief. After that he played and paid the king in his own coin.

This great game of "honor and ruff"
occupied Henry's mind day and night during a fortnight. He feasted upon it to satiety, as he did with everything else, never having learned not to cloy his appetite by overfeeding. So we saw little of Brandon while the king's fever lasted, and Mary said she wished she had remained silent about the cards. You see, she could enjoy this new plaything as well as her brother,
but the king, of course, must be satisfied first. They both had enough eventually, Henry in one way, Mary in another.

One day the fancy struck the king
that he would rebuild a certain chapel at Windsor, so he took a number of the court, including Mary, Jane, Brandon and myself, and went with us up to London, where we lodged over night at Bridwell House. The next morning—as bright and beautiful a June day as ever gladdened the heart of a rose—we took horse for Windsor, a delightful seven league ride over a fair road.

"Lightness of a 'Dorothy Dodd'"

On the Scales

A great many interesting facts may be discovered with a pair of scales, but it is doubtful if any single fact will be more interesting and valuable to the average woman than the weight of her shoes.

For this tells her the number of ounces that must be lifted thousands of times each day, and a little calculation will show that she lifts tons of shoe leather a day—no small labor in itself.

The "Dorothy Dodd" shoe saves the lifting of more than one and one-half tons every day. A pair of "Dorothy Dodd" shoes are several ounces lighter than ordinary shoes. The feet are just so much more comfortable, and you are so much less tired. Put a pair to the test!

Theatrical Notes.

The New York Mirror announces that Mr. True S. James will next season put out his own play, "The Power of the Weakest," which was produced here last summer under the name "Douglas" at the Kentucky theater while he was leading man for the English Stock company. It is a play dealing with atheism.

Manager James E. English has returned from St. Louis, where he spent a week with his partner, Ollie Mack, of Murray and Mack, which played there last week. The production, "A Night on Broadway," has been very successful in every way, and Manager English had a pleasant stay in the Future Great.

Miss Henrietta Crossman, in her new production of "The Sword of the King," aroused great enthusiasm in Chicago. The audiences at the Grand opera house were unrestrained in their expressions of approval and there were repeated curtain calls after every act. In Chicago, as in New York, Boston and Philadelphia and in other cities Miss Crossman was called on for a speech at nearly every performance. "The Sword of the King" was presented in Chicago with an entirely new and elaborate stage setting. Every bit of scenery, all the costumes and each accessory were especially prepared for Chicago and the Western tour. Therefore the production as now seen is more costly and far richer than the one which received such enthusiastic praise in the large cities of the East. Miss Crossman will present "The Sword of the King" with its new setting at The Kentucky Friday night. Seats on sale Wednesday.

A marriage that attracted a great deal of attention in the St. Louis papers was that of Miss Lillian Durham of the Murray and Mack company and Mr. M. P. Maples, a traveling salesman for the Meyer Bros. Drug Co., at St. Louis Saturday. The bride will be remembered in Paducah as the handsome blonde who was here twice with the Murray and Mack company, and was prima donna of the company. She met the young man in New Orleans at a reception last November, and they had since been corresponding. Friday he telephoned her from another city and asked her if she would marry him and she said she would, so he went at once to St. Louis and the ceremony was performed. The bride will retire from the profession the latter part of the week, when the show closes for the season, and they will leave at once for St. Louis to reside. Manager J. E. English of Paducah witnessed the wedding.

The Independents are composed of the best amateur players in the city and played an excellent game, although they had not practiced together before. The batteries were Dicke and Wilkins for the Independents and Hays and Brahm and Russell and Brahm for the others.
